MERRITISVILLE-2 P. M. Hardly had I ponned the above words, when a messenger came into the room where Counsel and myself were sitting. He was much excited, and when he told us his news, we became scarcely less so. . Two gentlemen had just arrived poste haste from California direct. They had travelled the last 44 hours without sleep, in their anxiety to reach the spot where Mclienry was being One morning, about a month subsequent to perhaps known to the Recording angel, but formerly of Cumboro, and Hugh Aiking tried. Their names are Thomas Walters formerly of Acton.

It seems that McHenry's letter to California was addressed to a Mr. Anderson, Scribe of the Sons of Temperance Lodge in Chipp's liggings. Mr. Anderson had left the place, and the letter consequently lay there unopened .or a couple of months. It was banded to the actual scribe, who laid the contents before. the members of the Division. Melleury was known at Chipp's diggings as a sober, quiet respectable man. Chipp's diggings were up in, an instant. No time was to be lost. The Sons of Temperance there, of whom McHenry had been one, scoured the County instantly. The proper men were found, and affidayits were made which will at once satisfy the mind of any unprejudiced person. The departure of the gentlemen I have named was hastened for the purpose of their being bearers. of the first package of documents, but other, packages are on the way, addressed some to: the Governor General, some to the Sherifl of Haldinand, and some to the prisoner himself. The meeting between the two gentlemen alluded to and the prisoner, took place a short time after their arrival, one of them recognised him, and was recognised (but not by name.) Mollenry then proceeded to relate eircumstances which took p'a cat the diggings in 1851, such as the falling of trees across cabins, &c., &c., which both the geutlemen recollected perfectly. The Judge was informed of the arrival, and that Mellenry would standhis trial immediately. But he would not altow this to be, since the trial had been postponed. There can be little doubt that the prisoner will be admitted to bail in the interior. It may be that the government will be applied to-to falfil that the hope held out by Judge Draper in his address, viz: that they would advance

General Summary.

A meeting of Common School Teachers, and other friends of Education, takes place at Newmarkel, on Friday and Saturday next, the 23rd and 24th inst., in the Unior S. S. Room. The Directors and Members of the North York Branch Agricultural Society hold General Meeting on Tuesday next, at 3 o'clock p. m. For particulars, see advertisement.

We understand that Major Stephenson awarded two prizes of one pound each, to the bost Rem Lamb and Eve Lamb, got by his oslebrated Imported Ram, at our late Fall

By reference to our advertising columas, it will be seen that our old friend Mr. J. Forsyth lies again resumed his well-known premises the Railroad Hotel. The travelling public will no doubt be pleased to meet their old host when calling at Newmarket.

The Georgina and North Gwillimbury Fall Show took place yesterday. In consequence of unforseen circumstances we were untable to attend : we hope, however, our friend Mr. R. H. E. will furnish the readers of the New Era with a copy of the prize list, &c., next week.

We are much indebted to Mr. Major Stephenson, and also Mr. Dumond for the samples of Roots left at this office on the day of our late fall show. Also, to Mr. Samuel Lundy and Mr, Ca'vin Weddel for Vegetables. We shall remember the kindness of the egentlemen when an opportunity offers.

From the office of the "Bureau of Agriculture and Statistics" we have received a beautifully bound copy of Prof. Hind's Essay, to which was awarded the first prize,-" on the Insects and Diseases injurious to the Wheat Crops." It is a capital work and should be largely circulated among the farming commuuity. We shall take occasion to select a few extracts for our readers at an early day.

COROMER'S INQUEST .- An Inquest was held by Mr. Coroner Willson, on Monday last, the 12th inst., at Mr. Hiram More's Inn, North Gwillimbury, on view of the body of a man who died there the morning previously. The deceased arrived at Mr. More's Inn on Saturday | Trent, evening hist, and took lodgings for the night. He appeared very ill, declined talking with any one, and at times during the night made a rattling noise in his throat; he also appeared to suffer under an aborration of mind. He was about 36 years of age. The deceased was a total stranger in that section of the country, and gave his name as Colder. He said he was on his way to Beaverton. The verdict of the Jury was- "That deceased, whose name is suppos" ed to be Colder, departed this life by the visitation of God, in a natural way, and not by any violent means whatsoever, to the knowledge of the Jurors."

Rorth York Branch Ag. Society.

The above Society held their Annual Fall Exhibition at Newmarket, on Tuesday last. the 13th inst., and was the largest and best ever held by the Association. Nearly 500 entries were made with the Secretary,-and after the books were closed others desired to | 2nd do., T. L. Heacock. enter the list of competitors.

The borses and cattle this year, as a whole, exhibited a marked improvement over other years, -while the number of entries in each class were nearly doubled. It would not be out of place to remark here, that the number of entries, as a whole, other years were swelled by competitors in roots and regtables; but this year, the augmentation was in Stockfurthishing the most reliable evidence of material progress in stock-breeding. "

In Sheep the Society never made a better display. Every animal was of a superior description, and those gentlemen to whom prizes were awarded well deserved the mark of distinction; although, it was with difficulty, in | do., Thos. .. In Implements there was a fine display, and all well worthy of inspection. From the natore of our duties as Secretary to the Society we were unable to icake a minute inspection; but we beard competent men to give an opinion observe, the articles exhibited were indeed creditable to their makers.

The Seeds and Vegtables were excellentmuch better than was anticipated, considering the season. We were glad to learn from farmers that the rot was not so extensive as has been' represented, - a good many, however suffered largely, particularly those who planted | 2nd do., do. do. on low wet land. Mangold Wurtzel were on exhibition weighing as high as 18 lbs., as well ford; 2nd do., Wm. Wallis.

as some of the finest Swede Turnips we ever bare been. , In the Ladics Department there was a fine display, and had a more respectable and conrenient place for exhibiting the articles been selected, it would have been considerable to the credit of the Society and added to the interest of the exhibition. In this department It would not do to make individual distinction;

- no exhibition in the County of York ever equalled this show in the fine orts. "Fire judges having concluded their labors, the members of the bociety and their friends, to the number of searly 100, adjourged to the Railros difotel, where a sumptuous dinner was confectionery, yet the judges thought the cake left lie the blue hills of Chataque, while on provided. When the banquet | but on the 16th August, the position was attack concluded, the Lloydrown band regaled us with a digestive little air, and then commenced the intellectual portion of the treat. Mr. Manning being called to the chair, rose and gracefully expressed the entisfaction it gave him, and his due appreciation of the honor conferred upon him, in being called upon to preside, on such a general occasion. The array of talent that he saw on each side of him, confirmed him in the impression that the cause would be ably advocated, and he was happy to commerce his duties by introducing to the company, the Rev. Mr. MacRitchie. The Rev. Gentleman spoke in his usual pleasing and instructive style, and praised particularly the unvarying disinterestcluess that characterized the tootives, and actibns of the Sons of Temporance, in comparison with all other applications for signa tures, not even excepting those for benev olent purposes. The only interested views were in a moral sense, and the objects were two fold. The first was to alter the drinking usages by moral sussion, and they no doubt ing a common interest, and working togeth- by this means exercised a tremendous influence, the main drawback however existing in the fact, that as fast as the Sons were making temperanco men, tavern keepars were no less, industriously engaged in manufacturing druck ards. The second object was to totally eradicate alcoholio drinks by legal sousion. That is we must first persuade and enlighten in order to procure a majority of voters, and then the voice of the people at the poles would at once prohibit the noxion article. The present license system and prohibition were in fact synonymous, but the Gense only applied for the advantage of a few, white prohibition worked Mesers: Samuel Hisey, Andrew Lindsay, for the alvantage of the many, and rigorously James Lloyd, John Lehman and James put all upon a level. After a few temarks of the fallacy of calling the money received from licenses a profit to the township, and the bad initial effect of an absence of temperance tociety in the backwoods, the Rev. Gentleman took his seat amidst continued tounds of ap-

Mr. Smith next responded to the call. He spoke of the present anniversary, and took a retrospectivo view of the great things performed by their crder since the first installation, and the fully acd wickedness of moderate drinking, of the pleasure of tasting the clear gushing rill, unpolluted by man's inventions, amidst scenes of overwhelming grandeur and magnificence-ut its onward course to the unlimitable ocean-first emerging beneath the Carrots, 1st prize, Wm. Mr. Noble allegorically described the whole scene as a camp on a battlefield, and ably delineated the charge and defence, the armor, the medals, banners and weapons of attack with the nich enemy alcohol to encounter.
